

Intermas-Elcom acquires APW Enclosures SAS in Beauvais, France.

Intermas-Elcom GmbH acquires the French subsidiary of the APW-group. A Sales and Purchase Agreement for the shares of APW Enclosures SAS has been signed July 25, 2007 in Paris.

Intermas - Elcom GmbH based in Langen and Eisenberg (Germany) is a manufacturer and provider of innovative modular assembly systems for electronic applications from the component level up to integrated systems solutions. With the take-over of APW Enclosures SAS (former VERO Electronics) Intermas is improving its market position in France and expanding its product scope in the field of electronic- and kiosk solutions. APW Enclosures employs 30 skilled employees and is generating a turn-over of approx. 5 Mio. Euro.

Local production capabilities and engineering skills ensure modifications of standard products as well as fully customized system solutions within a short lead time. A certified quality management system in accordance to ISO 9000:2000 is in place. For further information please do not hesitate to contact either Intermas-Elcom GmbH or APW Enclosures SAS.
